During the time that our 2 year old son has attended this class we have been thrilled to watch him develop from a timid toddler into a young kid with increasing resiliency in social situations. It is amazing to watch him use the Montessori classroom and to interact with the other children and Sharon, the teacher.

Sharon's insights on toddler behavior and development have revolutionized our family interactions and finessed how we as parents deal with the "Terrible Twos". Best of all, our son loves the class so much that he asks daily whether today is a "school day". We couldn't have picked a better way to introduce our son to the concept of school."
